

NEWSLETTER, REV2

Friends, the response to the first newsletter has been resoundingly positive. Thank you all for your kind words and suggestions. Please keep your ideas coming as they're a great inspiration.

Again with the disclaimer, this newsletter is not meant to be intrusive, so please, notify me if you wish to be removed from its distribution. Friendship means more to me than the contents within this document ever might.

That said, I will broadcast this newsletter periodically to announce happenings and offerings as makes sense.

PROGRESS REPORT...

Iron has been moving! I recently appraised two gun collections, ultimately purchasing what I felt was the collection of guns that had been used and maintained properly. This collection has already been sold. I have some consignment inventory and have been adding to the new inventory, as well. Sage Brush Arms can offer great savings on new Taurus and Bersa pistols.

I have also been updating the website to include links to non-firearms businesses. The selection of these businesses is completely subjective. But, I can assure you that Sage Brush Arms has used and approved every product or service these businesses provide.

WHY BUY HERE?

[CUSTOMER SERVICE!]

An example of a recent sale in Plano

I had been discussing different purchase options, Cash, Credit & Debit cards and PayPal. Randy K. asked if I offered a layaway option. I did the next day, with Randy as my first layaway customer. Since then many people have taken advantage of this ownership option. Indeed, Stan T. was the first customer to take home his layaway purchase, a new S&W Bodyguard 380.

Sage Brush Arms is now a stocking dealer of:

THE INSIDE STORY

SAGE BRUSH ARMS ALWAYS PROVIDES EXCELLENT CUSTOMER SERVICE

"I was unable to use PayPal's service because, I sell guns!"

As mentioned in the prior section PayPal was considered as a purchase option. Jim S. called asking about a Springfield 9mm for his wife. He asked if I could accept PayPal payments. I got myself set up immediately to offer PayPal as an additional payment vehicle. Jim has very pleased. He & his wife came over to complete the sale. We completed the Federal paperwork and moved on to the PayPal invoicing & payment process. PayPal's process was very easy. We completed invoicing and payment. I received an email from PayPal asking me to participate in a satisfaction survey, which I did. The following day I received another email from PayPal asking me to contact them to, essentially, unfreeze my account. They explained when I called, that I was unable to use PayPal's service because, I sell guns! PayPal does not want to assist folks making firearms purchases. They even asked me if I might consider selling something other than guns! I immediately removed their logos from my website.

WE
GUNS!

Few phrases can get our immediate attention faster than, "WE WANT YOUR GUNS!" Well, in this case, it's really not a bad thing. We need to add inventory. The best method I've found it to help folks turn their rarely used guns into cash. I, in turn, am able to sell them through a vast network. One of my recent purchases is now being used in Canada by an avid hunter. So, if you have a friendly little firearm that needs a loving home, give me a call. I'll work to put it into the hands of someone who will love & cherish it!

I could be wrong*

Well, the outcome was not what was expected. The votes of Texans, as well as most of the South, were overcome by those of the liberal coasts.

A neighbor of mine stated his reaction in a very unique manner. This neighbor, a European immigrant of many years is a wonderful neighbor and a true testament of why our country remains the greatest nation God's divine hand ever inspired. Mr. P. has owned his home for nearly 30 years. He's raised a family and now enjoys summer afternoons with his grandchildren playing in his pool. His yard is immaculate. The pride he has, in little piece of America is evident as you note a house and yard in perfect repair. Mr. P. is a slight man, but a true giant in my eyes. I didn't have an opportunity to discuss the election with Mr. P., but there's no need. The sight that greeted me as dawn broke this morning speaks volumes.

Thank you and May God bless you, Mr. P. and, may God bless this great nation.
HE knows, we need it!
