

NEWSLETTER, REV IV

Friends, the response to our newsletters has been resoundingly positive. Thank you all for your kind words and suggestions. Please keep your ideas coming as they're a great inspiration.

Again with the disclaimer, this newsletter is not meant to be intrusive, so please, notify me if you wish to be removed from its distribution. Friendship means more to me than the contents within this document ever might.

That said, I will broadcast this newsletter periodically to announce happenings, and offerings, as makes sense.

PROGRESS REPORT...

We have reached the one year mark. Our industry and our country have experienced great tumult during this inaugural year. Business continues to thrive even though we've had significant inventory shortages. Of course our Gun-Salesman-in-Chief continues to fuel desire. Many new shooters have entered the market. We have, however, with tenacity & a bit of good luck, been able to get difficult to find firearms into the hands of good Americans. I continue to work with Mike Davis, the owner of Extreme Defensive, on several projects. Classes have been full, necessitating the need for larger venues. I consider this to be a positive indicator of the trend of our industry & sport. These classes are not just the gateway to your Texas Concealed Handgun License, CHL, but for many, they can be the real start of responsible gun ownership. In Mike's classes you will learn common sense approaches to gun safety & ownership. And they're fun, too! Please select the Extreme Defensive link on my website.

WHY BUY HERE?

[CUSTOMER SERVICE!]

Simply put; Great Customer Service

After examining a previous SBArms client's SCCY CPX2 9mm, "Liz" decided the SCCY would be the right pistol for her. I received an email from "Liz" Thursday afternoon. She and her boyfriend were scheduled to take a CHL class the next morning. They had no suitable pistols and wanted to purchase two before the class. Both of them worked and were unavailable until after 9pm. I agreed to meet them late that evening. They arrived and chose 2 SCCY CPX-2's because they felt right in their hands.

The bottom line: we accommodated our clients' time constraints.

THE INSIDE STORY

"Indeed, the anti-gun folks never stop working to remove your 2nd Amendment Rights"

Question: Where has the gun control rhetoric gone?
Answer: It's still here!

Measures to curb violence by limiting gun ownership have largely failed in US Congress. I don't mean to suggest that the threat to our freedom is gone. Indeed, the anti-gun folks never stop working to remove your 2nd Amendment Rights. Our states have not fared as well. As of July 1st, magazine size restrictions exist in Colorado. This, in spite of the fact that Magpul, a leading magazine supplier, is headquartered in Boulder, Colorado! Magpul's response: "Just to clarify, we are still moving [out of Colorado]... That train has left the station, and we are well into the selection and negotiation process as well as arranging many elements to be prepared to launch and already moving some production out of state."

What can we do? The National Rifle Association Institute for Legislative Action, NRA-ILA, continues the fight for our freedoms. If you're an NRA Member, thank you. If you're not an NRA Member, why not join right now?

WE WANT
GUNS!

Few phrases can get our immediate attention faster than, "WE WANT YOUR GUNS!" Well, in this case, it's really not a bad thing. We need to add inventory. The best method I've found is to help folks turn their rarely used guns into cash. In turn, am able to sell them through a vast network. So, if you have a friendly little firearm that needs a loving home, give me a call. I'll work to put it into the hands of someone who will love & cherish it!

I could be wrong*

I was fortunate to spend some time at the NRA Annual Meeting in Houston, Texas in May. This was the first such gathering where concealed carry was permitted! I learned quite a bit and met some wonderful people including "A" & "R" from Katy, Texas. "A" & "R" share a great love for this country. I first met Aaron outside of our hotel. We spoke and shared the bus ride to the Convention Center. Later that day, we were standing in line waiting for Glenn Beck to sign our copy of "Control" and found "A" standing next to us. Now there were hundreds of people waiting in line for Glenn Beck. During our wait several people began discussing many topics. At some point I remembered the handful of people exercising their 1st Amendment right outside of the Convention Center. They expressed their belief that guns, and gun owners, are inherently evil. Their message is, "More Guns = More Death". I remarked that many of the 30,000 people attending Saturday's events were possibly carrying a concealed firearm, yet, no violence had spontaneously erupted, no one was shot, nothing of any note had transpired. It was then someone suggested that guns don't kill people, people kill people. We all believe that to be a fact. It turns out that the Department of Justice and the Centers for Disease Control agree:

We all managed to have Glenn Beck sign our copies of "Control", which, incidentally, is an excellent read. We later met for a drink at the hotel bar. "A" & "R" continued to discuss their profound appreciation for America and our Bill of Rights, especially our 2nd Amendment. You see, our new friends had become Americans 26 years ago after emigrating here from India. I found their patriotism to be awe inspiring. They completely understood that our 2nd Amendment guarantees the rest of our Bill of Rights.
