

NEWSLETTER, REV V

Friends, the response to our newsletters has been resoundingly positive. Thank you all for your kind words and suggestions. Please keep your ideas coming as they're a great inspiration.

Again with the disclaimer, this newsletter is not meant to be intrusive, so please, notify me if you wish to be removed from its distribution. Friendship means more to me than the contents within this document ever might.

That said, I will broadcast this newsletter periodically to announce happenings, and offerings, as makes sense.

PROGRESS REPORT...

We are nearing the Holiday Season. Suppliers' inventories look good. AR style rifles and concealed carry handguns are in good supply, for now...

You will see an SBAR15 Package offering later in this newsletter.

CHL classes are more robust than ever. Teaming up with Extreme Defensive Owner, Mike Davis, has greatly helped many Texans acquire their Texas CHL. We have been offering specially priced monthly CHL classes at Southern Junction Nightclub and Steakhouse, on TX 276, in Royce City. Charles, the Owner, provides an outstanding lunch during the CHL class. The burgers are great! Having lunch onsite helps to save us time, AND, it's included in the cost of the range fee! Having the class at Southern Junction, just a mile up the road from the Extreme Defensive Shooting Range, helps to make the entire day run much more smoothly.

[CUSTOMER SERVICE!]

Simply put, Great Customer Service

I received a call from a couple of guys looking for some advanced optics. You see, they were shooting in a match on Saturday and needed some new glass. I got the call Tuesday evening. I called JR Tabor over at eXplore Optics. JR suggested a couple of scenarios which Big Bore™ Scopes, Rings, Mounts, Shades, etc. A phone call later, two rigs were ordered. I received them Thursday evening. I met them offsite and delivered both sets the following day. They later reported that they had a great day and did well with the rigs. eXplore Optics provides Great Customer Service.

I could be wrong*

Lynne & I met Aaron B. Saturday, May 4, 2013, in Houston, Texas. We were in Houston to attend the 2013 NRA Annual Meeting. Now, if you saw Aaron & I together you would probably laugh as no more of an odd couple has ever been together. Aaron is a slender and slight man who emigrated from India with his lovely wife Rita. They are some of the kindest, warmest and most patriotic people you will ever have the great fortune of meeting. At first ours was a brief, casual meeting. We talked a bit while riding the hotel shuttle to the NRA Annual Meeting. Later that afternoon, Lynne & I were standing in a line of people waiting for Glenn Beck to sign our newly purchased book, “Control”. People next to us asked if we would mind holding a spot for a gentleman that had needed to retrieve something. A few minutes later it turns out that Aaron was that gentleman! We talked more and learned of Aaron’s unique perspective of America. He is profoundly grateful to be here and humbled by the majesty of our country. The line started to move as Glenn Beck quickly began signing books. We made it into the enclosed booth and Glenn Beck signed our book. I can tell you now that I was speechless. We were outside the booth when, just a few seconds later, Mr. Beck emerged from the enclosure and made eye contact with me. He strode up and said, “I don’t know why, but I feel I must tell you that everything’s going to be alright!”, then, he hugged me, and went back into the booth. I was stunned and really couldn’t say anything. You see I had been experiencing what many of us had felt, despair. Everything seemed to be upside down. The country was a mess, and to some extent, still is. Now to say Glenn Beck is empathetic is an understatement. I heard him recount the episode a couple of times on his radio show and he said, “... he just felt something.” Aaron was so moved by what he had witnessed that he went home and returned a couple of hours later with Rita. We visited with them throughout the evening. We truly enjoyed seeing America through the eyes of these smart, worldly, patriotic Americans.

Why tell you this now?

Fast forward through personal triumphs and challenges, like we all share, to Tuesday, November 4, 2014, Election Day. The voters of this country may have finally figured out what my Indian friends have known all along. This is a great country that people from all over the world, try to reach to enrich their lives and those of their families. For several years we have put up with abject selfishness and rancor stupidity in Washington, DC. Tuesday November 4, 2014 was the beginning of our return to common sense, conservative principles that we use every day in our own lives:

- 🔫 Buy what you need, use what you buy, save what you can.
- 🔫 Protect yourself, your family & your home.
- 🔫 Be friendly, kind and generous with your neighbors.
- 🔫 Help where you can.

Our congress seems poised to retake their constitutional responsibilities. They seem ready to finally end grid-lock and stop, at least some, of the madness.

Wednesday, November 5, 2014 is a new beginning. Despair no more!

My brothers, their families, Lynne & I and assorted friends will be attending the 2015 NRA Annual Meeting in Nashville, TN. We hope to see you there.
